

WEEKLY DRAGON TALES

May 17, 2024

Living the Langdon LAIR life

Hello Langdon school families,

This is always an exciting part of the school year as we prepare to say goodbye to some students and welcome our newest Dragons. Classrooms are still in full swing with engaging and meaningful learning experiences. There are still many events/activities coming up that tend to be the ones students remember the most – concerts, final projects, field trips and getting active outside. We know that it's easy to want to count down these last days until summer. But we also want to make the most of every day because as most of us adults realize, time goes by so quickly and kids grow up so fast.

On that note, we want to be present, however, planning for the 2024-25 school year is necessary! We are in the midst of timetabling, staffing, and re-visiting our school education plan. We are reflecting as a staff on the best parts of this past year and what we can do to continue to grow and be better next year. PBIS, de-colonization, literacy/numeracy, student leadership, relevant learning opportunities and career connections and social-emotional well-being will continue to drive instruction for student success.

Earlier this week, Mr. Legault sent out the options request form for grade 6's and 7's for next year. This is a google form that students must access from their rvschools account. Please have these completed by Wednesday.

You will also receive a survey on Tuesday regarding before and after school care. This feedback will allow us to have discussions around the possibility of Langdon School being a location. Please note, this is to gauge interest and no plans are currently in place.

Please also see the Volunteer Appreciation invitation for all of our amazing parents/caregivers/community members who helped support our school this year in so many ways! Your involvement is an integral part of our school community!

Have a wonderful weekend,
Shannon Storey
