

WEEKLY DRAGON TALES

June 17, 2024

Living the Langdon LAIR life

Hello Langdon school families,

Happy Father's Day to all the dads and/or father figures out there!

Hopefully the forecast will end up a little better for tomorrow's grade 5 picnic and play at the park! A little rain is welcome for those of us in Calgary, but fingers crossed, these last few days of school we see the sun and warm temperatures.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday are PAT days for our grade 9s and Wednesday and Thursday for grade 6. Afternoons are regular classes and review but if you choose to sign your child out, please do so prior to the day of the exam. Students must then leave school property.

Auditions have wrapped up for Langdon's Got Talent. The performance list will be posted tomorrow. Staff will also be getting together to determine recipients of L.A.I.R. awards and the honour roll student list (Junior high). If your child is receiving an award, you will be notified so you can attend the ceremonies on Monday. The elementary one will be at 11am and the grade 7-9 will be at 1pm.

This Friday is National Indigenous Day and we are very fortunate to welcome Tricia March who will perform some dances for our school. There will also be Indigenous games set up outside. Teachers and students have been learning and applying their knowledge to some meaningful projects this past month. A group of students had a sharing circle last week with Mrs. Smart and Learning specialist Stacy Dyck and her daughters. There were stories that included history, connections to the land and the things that bring us together and help us move forward. This coming week, they will have the opportunity to learn some bead work. We are grateful for the relationships we are forging and have some ReconciliAction plans for next school year.

If there are any parents/caregivers who would like to volunteer for Carnival Day the last day of school, please contact our office. Our leadership students would love the help!

Have a wonderful week!
Shannon Storey
