Living the Langdon LAIR life

Hello Langdon school families,

I hope you stayed safe on those roads this weekend. It's picturesque and certainly reminds us it is almost December.

Good news! The grade 6-8 winter concert is a go! Mr. Schmid is looking forward to showing everyone how hard the bands have worked. Please note, this will be a combined concert at Horseshoe Crossing High School and will begin at 6:30pm. The Langdon School bands will also perform for their peers that afternoon at Langdon School at 1pm.

You may have noticed that we now have Langdon School merchandise for sale on our website. Orders will be open until Dec. 8. There are a variety of sizes, and you can pay on school cash. We will have sample sizes on display at conferences and Showcase evening.

Wednesday evening conferences are a 10-minute block of time. You will hear a bell when it is time to finish your conversation. You can arrange another time with the teacher if this is not enough time, but we need to respect others who are waiting as well as wrap up the evening by 7:30pm. Thank you in advance.

Thank you to Coach Haag who is coaching the Girls Jr A Basketball team. We are still in need of a coach for the boys' basketball team. We need a coach in place ASAP as try-outs are supposed to begin early this week! Please reach out to Mrs. Moskal, if you can help. There are a lot of boys signed up for the try-outs. There would be a staff member to assist you.

Once again, our leadership students are leading a foodbank fundraiser Dec. 9-13. Our hope is to collect as much as last year (and it'll be a bonus if we beat Rainbow Creek and East Lake school!). We will also have a friendly competition amongst classrooms.

Have a wonderful week,

Shannon Storey
